PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

To the Oakwood Family and Friends:

Wrapped up in these pages are loving memories and lasting inspiration of days to be long remembered and friends never to be forgotten. Through the pages of this yearbook you will be led into the exciting Oakwood environment — one that is a potent force in spiritual, academic, and social development.

While this yearbook presents a landscape sweep of Oakwood activities, it focuses on Oakwood's treasure — its greatest ambassadors, the students we serve. These students are our "raison d'etre."

With that in mind we salute our parents, our conferences, our church members, and our alumni for the sacrificial assistance that assures for our students the opportunity to be here.

We also applaud the teachers, deans, advisors, and administrators for providing quality education and a rich student life.

To you our students, we are proud of you. Your academic accomplishments and, most of all, your living in your daily lives the principles of an Oakwood education. We are confident heaven's blessings will continue to rest upon Oakwood College as we move toward new horizons and new heights.

UNITED STUDENT MOVEMENT

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Although we attempt to chronicle our history in pages of picturesque illustrations, no language inscribed, or vividly portrayed, can adequately capture the emotion contained in the 1992-93 year. We expanded our minds at the feet of the professors; we cultivated character amid the Black culture; we stimulated our senses with the sweet sound of music, and met the Creator in the beauty of campus. We fought as a family to initiate change--we cried when change came about. We cast our vote to elect a new President; we voiced our concerns about our community; we challenged the stagnicity of the old status quo by redefining, recreating, reshaping, and re-mixing, the perceptions of Black America. We truly were a United Student Movement--we were "a New Power Generation".

The "newness" was seen in our innovate creativity: The first USM Church Service at the Oakwood College Church.
The "power" was portrayed in our sense of accomplishment: The Moran Hall Renovation Project.

But above and beyond the endeavors of our school year was the deep, sincere, heartfelt need to "trust in the Lord with all our heart, leaning not to our own understanding". Tapping into this Source allowed us to truly become "A NEW POWER GENERATION".

Furman F. Fordham, II
USM President

LETTER FROM THE EDITOR

Editing the yearbook has been more challenging to me than I ever expected. I have learned a lot about leadership, organization, and management of time. It is through the help and power of the Lord that I was able to make this yearbook a success. I found my sponsors, Mr. Donald Wood and Dr. Oliver Davis, to be very supporting and always willing to lend me their services in my times of need. I was also blessed with a hard working, committed staff to whom I will be forever indebted, for it would have been impossible for me to have done this yearbook alone. Not only is their dedication appreciated, but also their pleasant personalities, which made working with them a joy.

A book of articles and pictures could never truly express to an outsider the real Oakwood experience. But to those of you of whom the 92-93 Oakwood College school year was comprised I hope that this book will forever remind you of your joys, sorrows, accomplishments, friends, and disappointments that you experienced here at the "Oaks". As you move on the new horizons, I hope that you will take with you the things that you have learned here at Oakwood and apply them in a way that will make an everlasting, positive impression on the people that you come in contact with and an astounding impact on the future of the world. Always remember that you can make a difference, for you are the new Power Generation.

THE NEW POWER GENERATION

STUDENT LIFE

Classy Shots

At Oakwood College, excellence is a part of its creed. It is a model of success, which combines academics with spiritual and social achievement. This has proven to be a winning mixture. Those who pass through this institution increase their potential for success.

This combination of social, academic, and spiritual success may be emulated by other institutions, but the special "Oakwood Experience" can be found at only one place.

This experience involves being part of a family that is genuinely interested in the academic achievement of its students. The Center for Academic Advancement (formerly the DLRC) is open to those who want help for the classes which require a little more effort.

Other sources for academic help include the Drop in Center and the Science Learning Center.

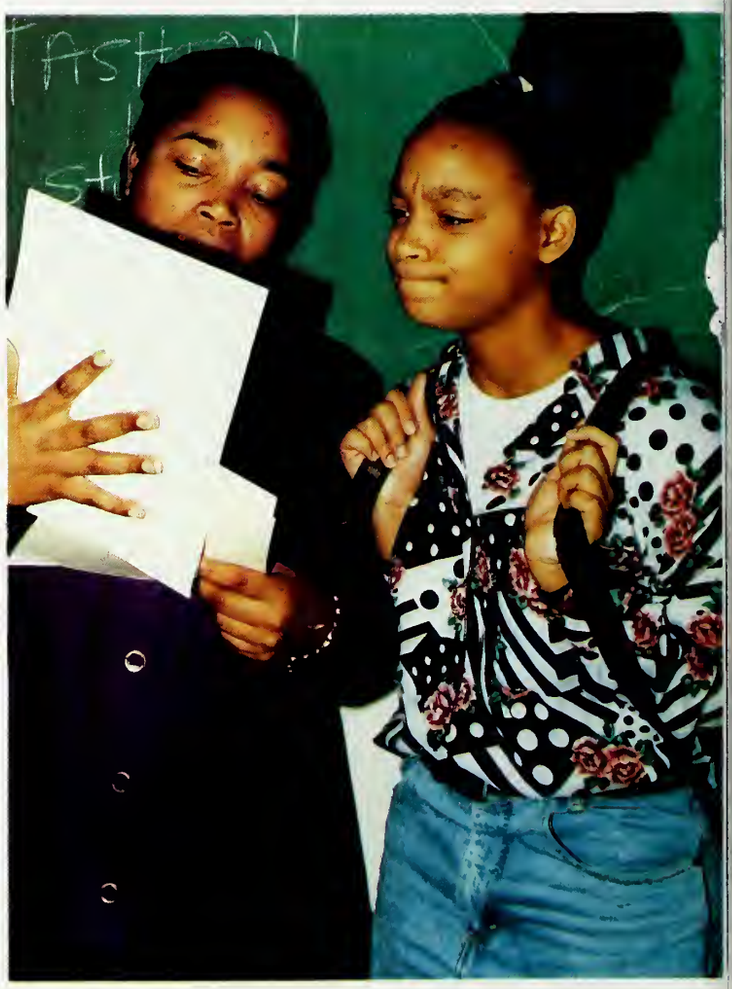

These academic aids help OC students gain understanding in the areas where they ar deficient.

Oakwood College is a model of success, which combines academics with spiritual and social achievement.

A Friendship Worth Having Is Worth Preserving

It is said, "The only way to have a friend is to be one." Of course, this is not always easy. The need for companionship is often the primary motivation for those who find comfort in a close friend. The therapeutic benefits they get from human warmth and closeness give them the incentive to invest their time and energy into the friendships that have both latent and manifest functions. As college students, making and keeping friends throughout our matriculation is crucial to our psychological development. Subconsciously, we tend to gravitate towards those who remind us of someone we were close to at home or with whom we share some common interest.

Relationships are usually more meaningful when we are able to relax and be ourselves in the company of our friends without worrying about social mores. If the relationship is important to us, we will devote some part of our day, week, month, and quarter getting to know our friends and helping each other through some personal turmoil. Naturally, there will be times of calm and conflict, but those who are realistic about relationships will realize that a friendship worth having is also worth perserving. As the songwriter puts it: "A lifetime is not too long to live as friends."

DORM LIFE

What do the words curfew, letters, room check, R.A., roommate, and worship credit have in common? They are all words that in the future will remind Oakwood students of their dorm life experience. Oakwood's dorm life is unique from all other schools, for its rules and regulations are centered around moral and spiritual values. Very few students leave Oakwood without having to sign in at least once for missing curfew or receiving a letter for lack of worship credit. The deans in the dorm are people who have an earnest desire to help their residents the best way they know how. It is by living in the dorm that one meets and develops friendships that will last a life time.

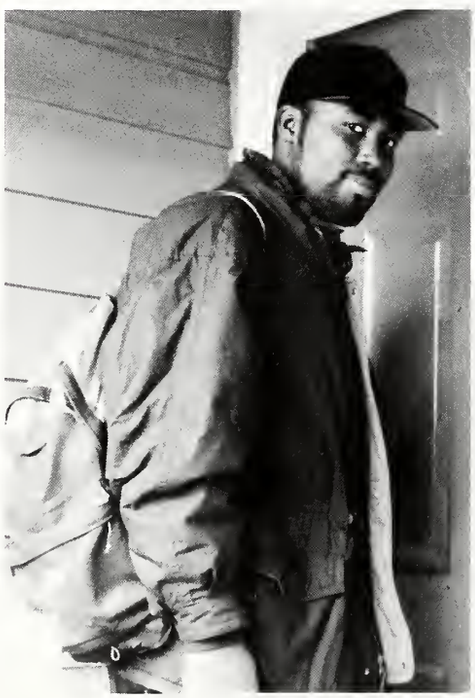

Off Campus Life

A considerable number of Oakwood students stay off campus. By Oakwood being a school with many rules and regulations, some students feel that living off campus allows them to express themselves more freely. Others live off campus because they think that it is cheaper; however, after actually living off campus many of them change this initial thought. Along with off campus life comes responsibility. Students must deal with apartment rent, car note, electric and water bills, and food purchases. A lot of these students work to compensate for their new expenses. Despite the new responsibilities nearly all students say that they love it and wouldn't move back on campus for anything.

Strategies for Success

The Work Education Department is assigned the responsibility of placing student worker with employers seeking aspiring professionals who are yearning for the opportunity to put their classroom knowledge to work in a practical setting. Students have the option of choosing as the place of employment departments that best suit their interest and meet their individual needs. However, if the job or choice is unobtainable, then an alternative position is usually made available until a better offer comes along. Mrs. Joslyn Thomas, director of Work Education, has made it her ambition to find jobs for every student willing to work for cash or labor credit, through the College Work Study and Work Scholarship programs, respectively. Most student workers are cognizant of the challenges awaiting tomorrow's professionals and the need to formulate strategies for success in a sophisticated society where the multifaceted worker will be the most valued employee in the work place of the future.

For the Love of Cash

Show me a student who is both studious and ambitions, and I'll show you the epitome of prosperity. Show me a pupil who is lazy and lethargic, and I'll show you a future casualty of life's harsh reality. A wise student knows the advantages of a learning experience that combines hard work and time and money management. This is why Oakwood College students can be seen working at almost any place in Huntsville. Of course, keeping a job while maintaining a full course load can be a task in itself, but most of our students eventually adjust to their rigid schedule, realizing that paying their tuition in full necessitates gainful employment. Consequently, the poet, Henry W. Longfellow's admonition is embraced as a motto with inspiring influence:

Let us then be up and doing,
With a heart for any fate;
Still achieving, still pursuing
Learn to labor and to wait.

What, Snow in Huntsville?!

The entrance at Oakwood College

On Friday, March 12, 1993, something unusual happened that had not occurred in five years. It snowed in Huntsville. Students went wild!! Snow fights were started immediately. The guys raided the girls' dorm with snowballs which prompted the deans to enact curfew at 8:00 p.m.

The snow made the campus look enchanted, for it was such an unusual sight. Everyone enjoyed the unpredicted change in weather. No one can say that Huntsville didn't have a White Christmas; it just came a little late.

Registration or Frustration

When school begins each quarter, the one thing that each student must face is spending long hours in lines during registration. The tedious job begins in the gym, standing in line to receive one's package that contains information about the registration process. For many, the most stressful line is financial clearance. Sometimes it is only through the finances of the Lord that this line is completed. There is nothing like the sense of accomplishment when one finishes the registration process. Even though it may be a tedious, drawn out process, registration is accompanied with greeting friends, conversing with teachers, and meeting different staff members. When one thinks of the Oakwood Experience, he/she can't help but to reflect on his/her registration experience.

"Dr. Davis, can I please take an easier ca class?"

"I hope she puts the right classes into the computer."

"Now, where do I go next?"

"Seeing that I'm going to be in this line for a while, I might as well have a few laughes!"

Rhonda Faga is attending school this year in France. This is all made possible by Adventists Colleges Abroad. The following is a letter from her telling about her experiences.

Dear Oakwood College:

Can you believe it?! I'm in Europe — for that matter I'm in France! It's been a long time coming, but I'm here! There's so much to tell, so I'll try to include everything! Institut Adventisite du Salve, "Collonges" as it's familiarly called, is located directly under the Saleve Mountains in the easternmost part of France. The border of France and Switzerland, the Croix de Rozon, is about 1 mile down the hill on which "Collonges" rests. Our nearest metropolitan city is the internationally known city of Geneva, which, among other values, houses the United Nations.

My first impression of the campus were no doubt different but good. One could remark on how beautiful and picturesque it was with freshly, budding flowers, well-groomed lawns, and quaint buildings. In the dormitory, as well as everywhere else, the preceptrice (or women's dean) spoke French only, waking-up new senses in me as well as my fellow Americans! The people are nice! For them, being at "Collonges" is as normal as you returning to Oakwood College for a consecutive year — yet the difference is they receive an influx of "strangers" making noble attempts to speak their language.

All-in-all, there are about 60 students in the Institut de Langue Frangaise (ILF), of which 40 are American and with Adventists Colleges Abroad. Dr. Charles Smith, director of ACA, made one of the two annual trips here to Europe to join us on our tour of south France. He and his video crew produced several video segments, designed for recruitment purposes for prospective ACA Students. While in South France, we visited the major (historical) cities of Nimes, Avignon, Marseilles, St Tropez, Nice, Monaco, and Monte-Carlo. On our way back, we crossed over into Italy (the city of Grenobles), and drove 7 ½ miles through the tunnel under the Mont Blanc! It was a very captivating and educational tour!

Upcoming for the rest of the year, we have planned a visit to the Nestle Chocolate Factory, a ski weekend in the Swiss Alps, and the annual six days in Paris (inclusive of visiting a Parisian opera and the famous palace of Versailles). In between traveling, "Collonges" is known for its excellent academic program, especially for those Americans who are intent on learning the French language in one year! I can definitely say the French/European educational system leaves no room for wavering or goofing off!

Well, I do encourage any and all of you fellow Oakwoodites who have been contemplating going abroad, whether here, Spain, Austria, or the newly added programs in Italy and Greece, to "just do it!" "Bonne Amites" and may God continue to richly bless you all.

Sincerely,

Rhonda Fagan

Message From The UNCF Queen

Attending Oakwood College has been one of the most rewarding experiences of my life. The faculty, staff, and students of this great college impressed me to dare to be different in a positive manner: to challenge problems and solve them, to identify mistakes, to correct them, and to move forward. Oakwood College is an institution that encourages the students to use their educational background to better the plight of all mankind, ultimately enhancing the lifestyle of the students themselves.

Food From the Cafe: Fit For a Prince or Pauper

The Oakwood College cafeteria can be correctly characterized as the location to fraternize with our classmates while filling up on energy supply for the hoards of assignments that will inevitably drain our brain during the next few hours. Luckily, most students are cognizant of the fact that eating is more of a social encounter rather than a palate pleasing experience. "The food is unseasoned," or "the beans are slightly bitter" or "they served leftover lasagna last evening" are common complaints among resident students. However, enrolles in the class "Food and Nutrition" are more likely to hear a fairly healthy outlook. "The variety of foods and the combination of entrees make the cafe's food one of the best bargains in nutrition for hungry students." Also, some professors are apt to hail the victuals as "food fit for a king."

However, amidst the praises and criticisms, the tantalizing aroma from the cafeteria continues to lure both community and campus residents into the dining where the meals are consumed either hurriedly or leisurely. Unfortunately, due to the demographic and cultural diversity of our students, both the condemnations and adulation are likely to persist with equal proportion as long as the cafeteria remains in operation. After all, only a cook sent from Heaven could prepare large quantities of food to suit the taste of every consumer. But if one is looking for that perfect place to introducing himself/herself to that shy young lady or that timid young man who caught his/her eye in a sociology class, the cafeteria can provide the atmosphere for a breakfast, lunch, or dinner date that fits the budget of the typical student.

ACTIVITIES

BEACH PARTY

The Beach Party provided fun in the sun for the student body. Many students found themselves participating in the several activities which ranged from the limbo and hula hoop contests to the famous frisbee and football. Some non-participants chose to socialize while others decided to be encouraging spectators. Traditional picnic food and drink were served by the cafeteria.

SPIRIT WEEK

The New Power Generation kicked off the 1992-1993 school year with Spirit Week. The week long event began with a Pep Rally on Saturday night, September 5, in Moran Hall. Many students took a break from their studies to join in the fun and excitement of the Beach Party held behind Peterson Hall on Sunday. The other events included Monday — Sports Day; Tuesday — Kriss Kross Day; Wednesday — O.C. Gear Day; Thursday — Club Nite; and Friday — Friendship Day.

THE GONG SHOW

The Gong Show was on September 12 in Moran Hall. The master of ceremonies was Joe McKenzie. The Gong Show was an opportunity for many freshman to display their God sent talents. There were many participants who did an excellent job in arousing the crowd to give them a standing ovation. The winners were James Jones who played "End of the Road" by Boyz II Men on a saxophone; Ralf Richardson who played the instrumental version of "I Adore Me Amour" by Najee; and Jason Kibble who sang "One Last Cry" by Brain McKnight. The show was a success.

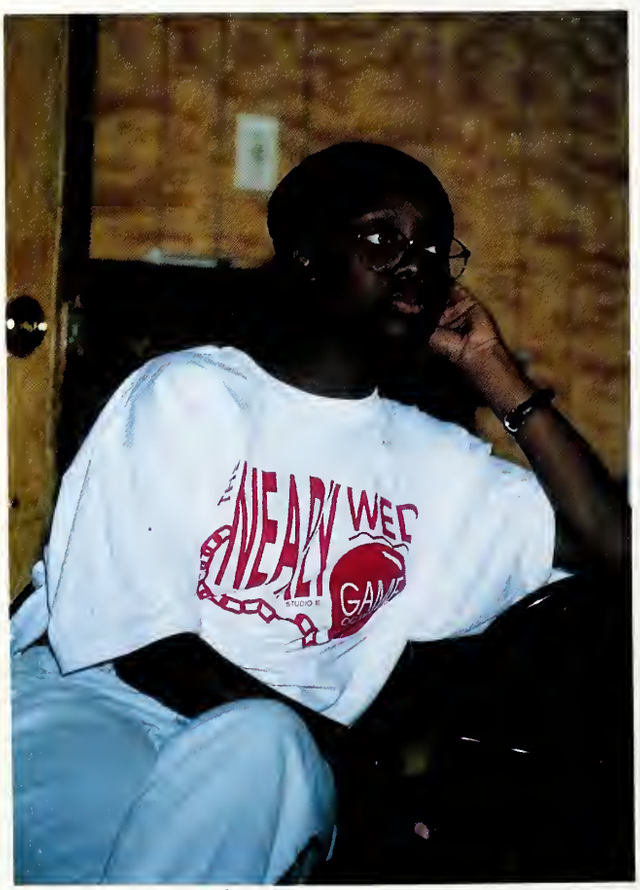

THE NEARLY WED GAME

All came out to Moran Hall Thursday night, September 24 to see couples show their compatability and knowledge of each other in the Nearly Wed Game. Brian Watts, USM Social Vice-President was the host for the twelve couples that were divided among two games. Second runners-up were Yemeseratch Girma and Patrick Graham; first runners-up were Leslie Watson and Melvyn Bray; and first place was awarded to Nilsa Delgado and Buford Griffith. Other couples included Dawn and Patrick, Paul and Rochelle, Makoa and Tashiya, Yolanda and Pucky, and Verne and Bruce.

If God Before Us, Who Can Be Against Us? USM Spiritual Retreat 1992

On October 11-12, the United Student Movement sponsord a Spiritual Retreat. It started on friday night with the A.Y.S. program held in Ashby Gym. The program began with an uplifting song service led by the Graham Brothers. The program proceeded with selections from various college and community groups.

Divine Hour on Sabbath was blessed with music from Dynamic Praise and the encouraging words of Pastor Richard Long of the Maranatha SDA Church in Atlanta, GA. The theme, of the weekend was If God Be for us, who can Be Against Us?, seemed appropriate. The student body worked together to make this USM weekend true spiritual experience.

INTERNATIONAL

On a clear Saturday night, the student body lined up to feast at the International Food Festival held October 10 in the Skating Rink. Once inside students had a variety of dishes to choose from. Germany, China, Jamaica, Mexico, and America were among the countries represented. The students were entertained with Caribbean music by guest musicians. At the conclusion of the festival, students left with their stomachs filled and their spirits high.

Can We Make

The student body looked forward to relaxing at Moran Hall, October 1, for Can We Make U Laugh. Several students signed up to participate in the event filled with Oakwood's personal humor. The event proved to be fun for the participants as well as the audience.

Trivia Pursuit

One goal that was achieved this year by our U.S.M. Academic Vice, Sherline Brown, was the Campus All-Star Challenge competitions. These competitions provid an opportunity to secure funding necessary to maintain the quality of education at Historically Black Colleges and Universities. This competition is a question and answer game for America's Historically Black Colleges and Universities to shine and spotlight on the fastest minds on campus. Questions cover every conceivable to from history, literature, science, to religion, geography, current events, American and African-American history to name a few. By competing nationally, institutions ca earn monetary grants totally $250,000 and show off th scholars on the cable network, Black Entertainment Television, BET.

Our U.S.M. Academic Vice was the Tournament Director for the Campus All-Star Challenge. There wer weekly competitions held Sunday, Monday, and Tuesda evenings throughout the month of October. Fourteen teams participated (Dynamic Praise, Peterson Hall R.A.'s, Science Club: Epsilon Phi Delta, NAACP, Sophomore Class, Ladies of Excellence, Lords of Discipline, Wade Hall, ZAGS, Caribbean Club, International Club, and WSB) in a total of twenty-six matches. The championship games were held Thursday, October 29, in Moran Hall. WSB won 1st place and received $250 and trophies for each team member. 2nd place was Epsilon (Science Club) who received $100 an 3rd place was the Caribbean Club who received $50.

A Skating Encounter

Recently, the Oakwood College skating rink was renovated with new amenities from the floor to the roof. With a refurbished floor and new skates, experienced skaters can now flaunt their spryness in style and confidence. The ladies seem so gloriously graceful in style as they scurry along the encircled pavement. While synchronizing their body movement to the beating sounds of the contemporary gospel music pouring out of the overhead speakers, they look naturally lovely in every move they make. Who can blame the fellow for remarking that his "eyes get a bit brighter and his heart grow a little lighter just by watching these enchanting figures skitter across the floor." These buoyant beauties are so bouncy in their steps, their resilient strides along with their unrestrained movements epitomize poetry in motion with every poised pace.

Of course, no skating session is complete without our male students embracing the ladies and leading in a promenade, exhibiting their adroit mastery of musical motions. When the song "That's What Friends Are For" is played, even the spectators get excited. This melodic theme seems to spur an aura of euphoria that is best describe as the perfect way to end a Thursday or a Saturday night. Also, the would-be skaters are not immune to that effervescent feeling that permeates that atmosphere during these memorable moments. In fact, a few of those who dare to venture on the main floor, trying their indelicate skills, end up adding jollity to the already, lively mood by stumbling over each other. For those who dare to compare swimming, basketball games, or any other social activities with skating, will soon realize that social satisfaction is more lasting when the evening is crowned with a "skating encounter."

Strike!

"Strike!" is the cry that one would have heard echoing again and again through the bowling alley if he would have been in attendance the night Oakwood students went bowling. The U.S.M. rented out Parkway Lanes from 12:00 to 2:00 a.m. and supplied two buses for transportation which were available to the first 200 students. Curfew was extended to allow Oakwood students extra socializing time. Every one had an enjoyable time, even those who only bowled gutter balls. Those who desired not to bowl chose either to play video games, eat, or just watch. But no matter what activity one decided to be involved in, everyone can agree that they had ball!!

Oakwood received a warm welcome. The program went well. Godfrey Noe, Religious Vice, spoke for divine worship, and Dynamic Praise sang. Flames of Hope

With symbolic candles lit, a crowd of predominantly black Huntsville citizens solemnly marched in remembrance of Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. Entitled "UMOJA: A March of Unity," the rally consisted of a silent, cohensive demonstration from St. John's A.M.E. Church to the community courthouse, where the student body representatives of Alabama A & M, the University of Alabama at Huntsville, and Oakwood College vehemently verbalized the need for change. The service then continued with a purposeful, song-filled march back to the church, where a spirited and thought provoking program ensued. College students, revered school faculty, and Huntsville residents reverently reflected on the life of the august civil rights leader and humanitarian, while selected musical talent and spokespersons from each school uniquely delineated the meaning of Dr. King's dream. Oakwood was well represented by our own Dynamic Praise and Anisa Jones. Truly, the excellence displayed in the organization and application of this program can be epitomized in the words of Dr. King.

Nursing Department Dedication Service

The Nursing Department Dedication Service was Sabbath, January 16, 1993, at 3:00 p.m. in the main sanctuary of Oakwood College Church. The dedication speaker was Mrs. Karen Britton, RN, who used experiences from her own life to convey to the nursing students the importance of their chosen field of study. The most exciting and anticipating part of the service was during the Candle Lighting Capping Ceremony. This was where three first year nursing students were rewarded for their hard and long hours of course preparation and clinicals. Each students was called up front and given a candle. Then the second year students capped the first year students. This was the largest class ever to be capped at Oakwood College and we would like to congratulate them all.

An Icy, Wet Night

Saturday night, February 13, 1993, the United Student Movement rented out Ice Plex, an ice skating rink, from 10:00 p.m. to 1:00 a.m. Some students loaded up on the buses that were prepared for them at Blake Center while other students drove; all headed for a night of Christian socialization. Once at the ice skating rink, students stood in line to receive a pair of ice skates; then they laced them up and hurriedly chased each other onto the ice. Everyone participated from the beginner to the skilled skater. Wet spots on some students' pants gave evidence of their inability to skate. People interacted with each other by forming a snake; this is where students hold onto the back of each others' waist to form a line where one person leads the whole group. Everyone who came had a pleasant, wet time.

Moran Hall Project

One of the goals of the USM this year is to renovate the Moran Hall Auditorium. Moran Hall was built in 1939 by the students and faculty utilizing the stones they quarried from the Oakwood mountain. Deterioration due to age and wear has forced the USM as well as the Administration to recognize the need of renovation on the historical building. The USM along with the Administration of our institution worked untiringly on the renovation project. The Moran Hall Renovation Committee, chaired by Carlton Byrd, finalized on the Renovation Specifications and submitted them to Elder Dennis Keith, VP for Financial Affairs. Financially, the Administration pledged its support to this noteworthy project. Shown here are pictures of students helping remove the previously existing chairs. When the project is completed, the auditorium will have a new floor, stage, curtains, and chairs. The whole student body is looking forward to the day when this project is completed, and they will be able to sit comfortably and enjoy a program, such as AYS, in Moran Hall as they did before.

Student Week of Prayer

The life of Christ called individuals from a life of complacency to a life of spiritual strength. The student week of prayer was constructed to bring across a theme of productive change. God himself called each one of us to a higher standard of spiritual living, a standard that is to be attained through change. However, we can only accomplish this change through Jesus Christ. Hence, the theme for the student week of prayer was "Our Change Has Come." During each service, the speakers approached change from a unique perspective. Christ was the central figure throughout the entire week. Moreover, there was a special focus on the challenges and solutions that we His people must face. When the week came to a close, hearts were touched and God was glorified. The message that "Our Change Has Come" was clearly and potently conveyed. No doubt, God smiled on us as we sought spiritual growth. We thank God for His direction and the presence of His Holy Spirit.

Black Speakers

During February, black history month, Oakwood along with the assistance of the USM Academic Vice brought in a number of eloquent black speakers. On February 2, the articulate, thought provoking orator, Dr. Norman K. Miles came and spoke at chapel. He is a minister, black studies professor, and the chairman of the Christian Ministry Department at Andrews University. Dr. Donna Willis came and spoke on February 9. She is an internist in private practice and a medical researcher at the Johns Hopkins University. On February 16, Dr. Julianne Malveaux enriched Oakwood with her thoughts of wisdom. She is a researcher and syndicated columnist. She is currently a guest columnist for USA TODAY and commentator on CNN's Crier & Co. The youngest daughter of Malcolm X, Malikah Shabazz, came and spoke the night of February 22. Dr. Jawanga Kunjufu, an author of several books on the education and social development of black youth, came and spoke February 23. He is a renowned educator and president of African American Images (a Chicago-based communication company). All who came to listen to any one of these dynamic speakers left with increased wisdom.

Lift Every Voice and Sing

On January 28, 1993, the United States Movement Social Vice sponsored a concert held in Moran Hall. The concert featured various groups and soloists who attended Oakwood College. The participants up lifted the Lord through praise and singing. No other school can compare its musical talents with those at Oakwood. The audience was spiritually moved through the messages that were so harmoniously sung. The Lord truly displayed through His servants His messages to His people. The USM would like to thank all the participants and encourage them to continue sharing their God sent gifts with others.

African Affair

On the Saturday night of International Students Weekend, February 27, the Oakwood College African Student Organization (OCASO) hosted an activity in Oakwood's cafe. Over two-hundred students and faculty came to be educated about Africa, their mother land. OCASO prepared an array of African dishes for people to eat. The food was from a variety of African countries and was very pleasing to the taste buds. After people had dined, they were entertained. The program was composed of a fashion show and African dancing. The fashion show highlighted clothing from many countries in Africa. Everyone who came left with more insight of the customs, culture, and ways of African people and their African ancestors.

One of the biggest events at Oakwood is the USM Winter Banquet. On February 28, the USM hosted the banquet in the North Hall of the Von Braun Civic Center. The theme was "An Enchanted Evening."

If one could have been present this night in the lobby of Carter of Wade Hall, he/she would have been astounded by the beauty that elegantly strolled out of the doors. All of the lovely young ladies looked stunning in their elaborate dresses. Many of them were accompanied by their clean cut, well groomed, handsome dates.

The banquet started at 6:30 p.m. with cocktail hour. At 7:30 p.m. everyone was seated, and dinner was served. For entertainment, the banquet featured the comedian, Jonathan Slocumb, and the singer, Chris Willis. Jonathan kept the whole audience in tears from laughter. The harmonious music that so eloquently came forth out of Chris Willis' mouth kept everyone's attention. After the program everyone lingered for a while to take pictures and socialize. The evening went off well and will be one that will be long remembered. The theme says it all, for it was truly "An Enchanted Evening."

The Dating Game

The Dating Game was held on March 11, 1993, in Oakwood's cafeteria. Ben Rachel was the first contestant. The three bachelorettes were: Saguinn Watlington, Yolanda Lalor, and Patricia Williams. After Ben's questions Saguinn Watlington was chosen. The second contestant, Tracey, had to choose from D.C. Falconer, Peter Campbell and Dana Winston. Her choice was Peter Campbell. She said he had the best answers. The show was hosted by our Social Vice, Brian J.T. Watts. Refreshments were served afterwards and fifty T-shirts were given out.

As the Class of 1993 prepares to march into a future, which for many is still unknown, we represent a diversity of disciplines, backgrounds, temperaments, and goals. Yet we share in the anticipation of a change. Soon we will no longer be called students, but graduates. We will be numbered among the alumni who yearly return to Oakwood at Homecoming. When the students, faculty and staff see us coming, what will they see? Will we be considered "successful"? Will we make Oakwood proud?

It is my hope that the Class of 1993 will be known as a committed class — committed to ourselves, each other, Oakwood, and most importantly, our God.

ATHLETICS

Football

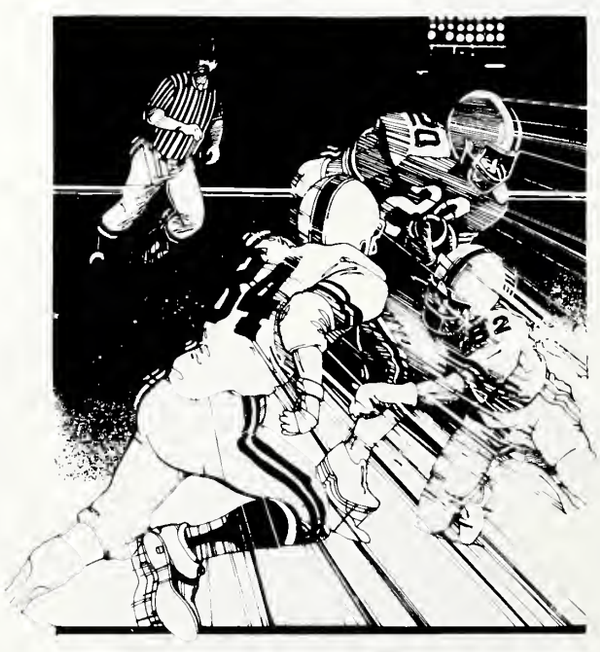

Whenever fall rolls around on college campuses across America, there is one thing that comes to mind: football (For most college students that involves attending games on colorful and brisk weekends).

However, when football season rolls around on the beautiful campus of our beloved Oakwood College, it means that it's time for most students to pull out those sweats, lace up those cleats, and head to the football field for some of the most exciting, hard hitting, and fast paced action they've ever experienced.

The season as usual starts out with a bang. After the team has been picked and the conferences align, all that is needed is the sound of the whistle to start another glorious season. The games are well played, and the players are enjoying their moment in the spotlight. Then calamity strikes, whole teams fold due to their inability to win any games. The season is also held up due to a temporary postponment by our athletic department. The season resumes after the captains from the various teams meet with the hierarchy of the athletic department and resolve the problems that exist.

The question is "Who would emerge as a clear victor?" With all of the controversy the season has drawn to a rapid end. Games have to be played back to back in order to finish the season on schedule.

In the end the "White" team emerge as the victor. Another season of Football has come to an end.

Grab this flag.

Travis get him before he throws the ball.

Good throw Mr. Roddy.

Now that is what I call a good play.

Now, that is what I call a block.

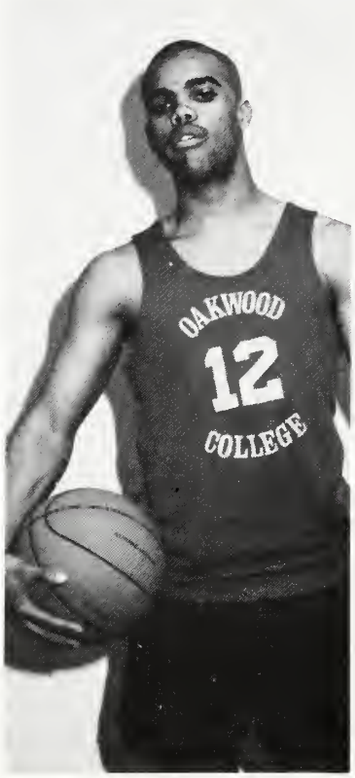

Run for that ball, Byron.

Oakwood College vs. Southern College

Oakwood Wins!!

Oakwood College Vs. Andrews University

Oakwood Wins Again!!

Guy's Intramural Basketball

These men attack the court like a lion does its prey. There is no place here for pretty boys or undedicated players. Game time denotes gut-check time, and the kitchen here gets awfully hot. Stamina and smarts will win the game, and these men know that all too well. Some characterize basketball as a form of relief, others as pure exercise, but most just call it fun and exciting. Point after point and dunk after dunk, the action is effected in rapid succession. In truth, this area of intramural play is for the men. Any other entities would be summarily thwarted.

And it's in there!!

I wish he would move out of my way.

I'm going to get that ball.

Oh no, I dropped the ball!

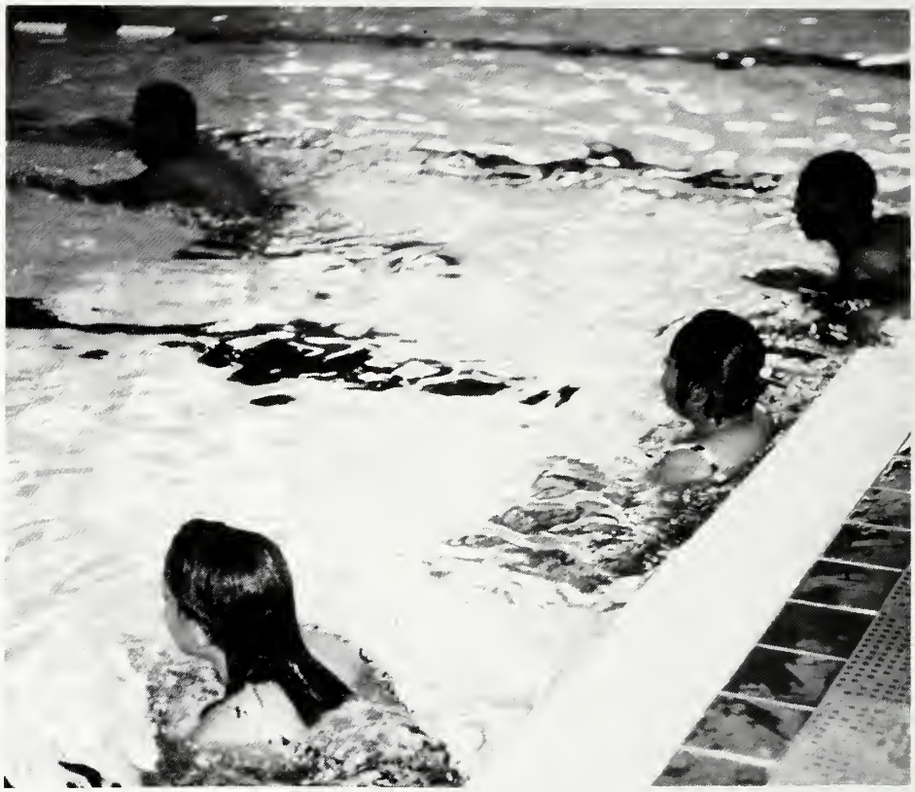

Swimming

Many believe swimming is the best aerobic exercise known to mankind. Others say the aquatic excursion is a great way to relieve stress; but most call it just plain fun. However, none of these students seem to worry about how the activity is described. They just enjoy this sport at Oakwood's W.R. Beach Natatorium.

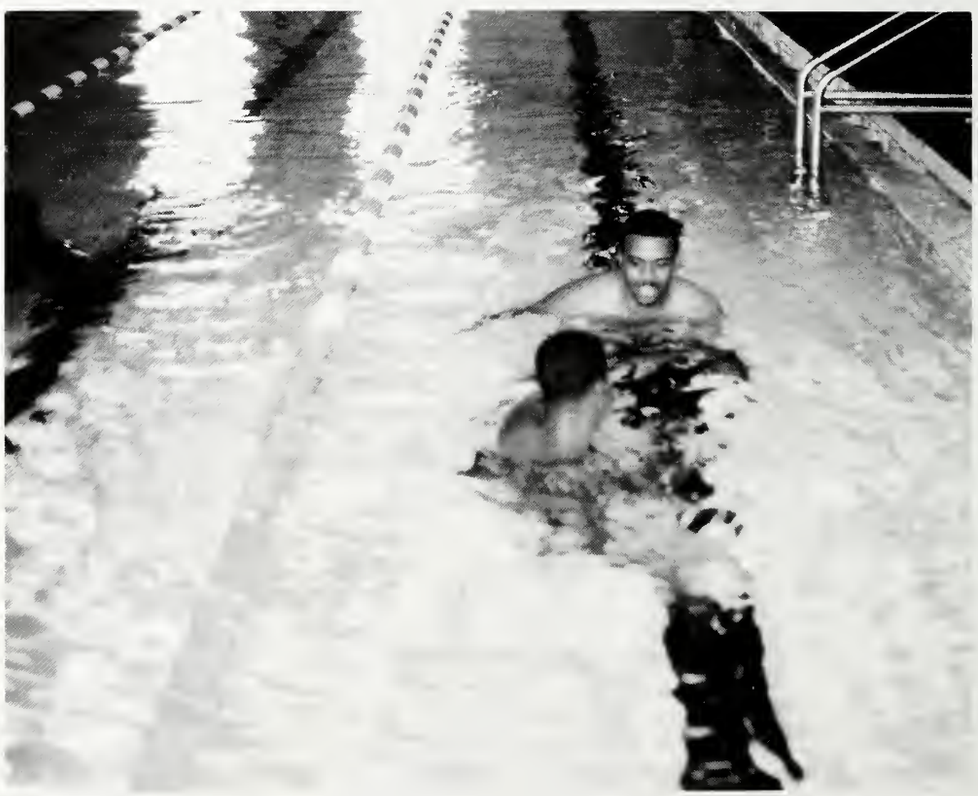

by Greg Mims, II

You can't learn how to swim on the side of the pool.

Now, that is how you do the breast stroke.

Greg, please keep him a float.

Put a little more strength into it. I know that you can do it!

Weight Lifting

Can she touch her knees with her elbows?

Indeed, the men of Oakwood College were strong not only in the spiritual arena, but the physical arena as well. Weight lifting is a means by which Oakwood men empower themselves to perform even better in the area of physical exertion. As you look, you will notice the bulging biceps on their strong arms. Moreover, you may easily envision the power present in their taut muscles eager to act and react against lead and gravity. These mighty men of Oakwood clearly display the benefits of weightlifting.

Gymnastics

The Gymnastics team is made up of devoted and athletic students. The team of "ACROSTARS" have been especially dedicated to making the gymnastics team a source of pride for the students and faculty of Oakwood College. New equipment and uniforms have been purchased to help make the "ACROSTARS" the best that they can be! With your support and encouragement they will reach new heights!

Streamline in form and elegant in play, the Oakwood College women take to the basketball court with an admirable cool. Action is intense as the ball passes from palm to palm. Each team performs sharply with the tought ever present that a mistake may lead to a point deficit. It's an exhilarating experience to see our strong Black women displaying their skills on the court. By the way, if some of you men think that they are an easy group, post up against them. I dare you!

Sports Up Close

In January of 1993 Oakwood College secured its spot in the arena of Huntsville's sports media with Sports Up Close. Sports Up Close is a half hour sports review produced by the Oakwood College Telecommunications Center. Some of the key players instrumental in the sports production include host/producer Greg Forde, Spreading Oak sportswriter Garry Graham, and Analysts Tony Dearborn and Melvin Suttle. Sports Up Close airs Sundays at 10:30 A.M. on Channel 29.

SOCIAL WORK CLUB

The Social Work Club is an organization that is on the move at Oakwood College. The number of students declaring social work as their major has multiplied greatly over the past five years; hence the club cannot help but grow.

Here are the names of the officers: President, Searl Gordon; Vice-President, David Solomon Hall; and Sponsor — Dr. Ellen Anderson. The Social Work Club has labored long hours to sponsor a multiplicity of activities for its members.

On Sabbath, November 14, the Social Work Club held its bi-annual Social Work Club Retreat at Oakwood Academy. The theme was "Future Social Workers Hastening Christ's Coming." Elder Moses Mason from New Life SDA Church in Huntsville was the guest speaker, and his words of direction will motivate club members for years to come. That glorious day was concluded by visiting the residents of the Adventist Towers for seniors and having an informal worship service with them.

The Social Work Club regularly schedules informative speakers to meet with social work majors throughout the year. The topics covered range from abortion to working with homosexual clients. Being a social worker in today's world is indeed a challenge. But the goal of the Social Work Club is to assist the professors in preparing students to be the best possible social workers they can be.

The Epsilon PHI DELTA Scientific Society

Top: Science Club White Water Rafting.

During the fall semester of 1946, a group of Oakwood College students majoring in various science fields decided to come together and form a science club which was named The Order of Master Scientists. This organization was the first departmental club formed on the Oakwood College campus. The Order of Master Scientists was designed so that students in the various science fields would have an outlet through which they could express themselves. The club's first president, Dr. Emerson Cooper, taught chemistry and served as chairman of the Chemistry Department for a number of years. Since its formulation, the organization has changed its name several times. It was known as the Oakwood Scientic Society, the Science Guild, and more recently, the Epsilon Phi Delta Scientific Society.

The objective of the Society include the following: to encourage students to pursue graduate degrees in the science; to develop a network through which past, present, and future students will be able to aid one another; and to increase the number of minorities in the science related fields by serving as role models in our churches and communities.

The Society also participated in extra-curricular activities such as spelunking, white water rafting, hiking, and a yearly retreat to Cohuta Springs. All of these activities are geared towards bringing unity and support to the students, especially those in the fields of science.

For Us, Who Dare Not Dare

Be me a Pharaoh
Build me high pyramids of stone and question
See me the Nile
at twilight
and jaguars moving to the slow cold draught.

Swim me Congo
Hear me the tails of alligators flapping waves that reach a yester shore.

Swing me vines, beyond that Bao-Bab tree,
and talk me chief
Sing me birds
flash color lightening through bright green leaves.

Taste me fruit
its juice free falling from a mother tree.

Know me

Africa.

Dynamic Praise

OAKWOOD COLLEGE ARCHIVES / MUSEUM
P.O. BOX 176
HUNTSVILLE, AL 35896

During 1988 a group of energetic, spirit-filled freshmen began a mission to spread the gospel through music.

Known as the Freshmen Choir, the group developed a very special and unique form of praise; a style and a purpose that couldn't have been known as anything other than "dynamic."

Now known as Dynamic Praise, its sole intent is to further the work of Jesus Christ and to "Make a joyful noise unto the Lord . . . to come before His presence with singing."

To be a member of Dynamic Praise is to take a stand and make a decision to become part of a network, a family whose goal is to strive together to further the work of spreading the gospel of Jesus Christ.

Through the grace of God the choir under the direction of Owen Simons and assistant directors Lee Jackson and Buford Griffith is approximately 140 members strong. The president of the choir is Carlton P. Byrd, and through his leadership and an able group of officers and sponsors the choir has been able to accomplish many things during the 1992-93 school year.

During the fall quarter alone the choir traveled to Fort Knox, Kentucky; Newark, New Jersey; and Jacksonville, Florida. For winter quarter the choir made the trips to Memphis, Tennessee, and Houston, Texas. For spring break the choir performed several concerts in different areas of California. During alumni weekend the singers celebrated their fifth anniversary with both old and new choir members. Anything they have gained along the way belongs to God and God alone. It is their hope that they may continue to dedicate their lives to the work of spreading the gospel through music and song to all the world in this generation.

Dear Oakwoodites,

The Oakwood College SIFE team is a dedicated, intelligent and articulate exponent of the Free Enterprise system. Our goal is to generate and establish on-going educational projects on our college campus and its surrounding communities, thus giving the citizens a better understanding of current issues and a greater appreciation for the Free Enterprise system.

Working with SIFE has proven to be a rewarding experience. Personally, it has enabled my dreams to become a virtual reality.

If you would like to change your personal economic standing, I personally challenge you to take a step in the right direction and become a part of the Free Enterprise system.

On behalf of Oakwood College SIFE, I would like to thank all those who have contributed to the success of SIFE and its activities. Thanks to our faculty sponsor, Business Advisory Board, Oakwood College administration, and community sponsors.

Sincerely,

Paul Williamson, President

"College Students learning, teaching, and practicing Free Enterprise"

NAACP

Without knowledge a person is dead, unable to function in a society where "knowledge is power, and ignorance is death." To be the best, one must learn the most. To do any less will allow mediocrity, abasement, and inferiority.

For one to have complete knowledge, he/she can not just center his/her learning to that which is bound in the seam of a book but must compile his/her learning from observation and one's own experiences. It is through observation and experiences which molds and shapes one's character, personality, ideology, and philosophy. All knowledge in itself is an impossibility because the more knowledge one attains the more one realizes that he or she is ignorant as compared to the vast amount of knowledge that this world does contain.

Learning through experiences is the main focus of the NAACP Oakwood College Chapter. This chapter has committed itself to the following community work:

1. Operation Brush

(This entails the chapter to paint the house of elderly people as well as assist them where needed.)

2. Clothes Drives
3. Girls/Boys Club
4. Food for the Hungry

It is also the aim of the chapter to stimulate the intellectual awareness of the undergraduates of Oakwood College. This is not in reference to that which is attained during one's normal educational experience; but that which is learned outside of the rigidly structured classroom setting which is for the personal gratification fulfillment, and actualization of the complete person.

Knowledge is necessary for survival. Not to obtain it in its fullest measure is to announce one's surrender to a mental subjection to slavery. For the man who knows nothing is a slave to everything.

History of Oakwood College Industry

The development of a strong industrial program in the early years of Oakwood's existence (1896-1932) aided the school in solving its economic and social problems. This history is a vital legacy of cultural, educational, and economic benefits that the memory of these contributions should be maintained and enriched for future generations. Few school industrial programs have served as such an effective catalyst.

Ellen G. White, the church's and school's counselor, advised that every institution of learning should make provisions for the study and practice of agriculture and the mechanical arts. Oakwood's administrators went to Tuskegee Institute in 1896 to talk to Booker T. Washington on the issue of literary education vs. manual training. Washington's doctrine was basically that the Negro would start at the bottom, getting an "industrial education" and thus provide a skilled labor force for the rapidly industrializing South. Their visit with him served to confirm what Mrs. White had already been shown — that Oakwood would be an industrial, normal, and theology school.

With four buildings, nine slave cabins, and property valued at $10,157.57, four teachers and sixteen students began an educational program that would prove to be a dynamic force in the total development of mankind.

For the benefit of both the institution and the community, the school maintained and operated a line of industries. Students and teachers worked side by side in agriculture, blacksmithing, bricklaying, broom making, canning, carpentry, clothes manufacturing, cotton manufacturing, dairying, gardening, horticulturing, laundrying, log milling, mattress making, printing, and woodworking.

At an annual conference of Negro schools held at Tuskegee in 1991, the United States Bureau of Education Inspector publicly announced that Oakwood was the nearest to the government's ideal in the South. Later in 1916, "a study of private and higher schools for colored people in the United States, Bulletin no. 30", described the Oakwood school as providing employment and instruction to pupils in a number of commercial enterprises.

Print Shop

July 1, 1949, marked the beginning of the College Press as a separate Department under the direction of Professor Murray J. Harvey. From that date, it has been assuming its own obligations. Practically all of the printing for the college is done by the College Press, as well as a fair amount of commercial work. Enlargement in plant space and additions to equipment are being made constantly.

Store & Bakery

The bakery and store were combined in one building located on Oakwood Road. The bakery was equipped with mixers, a bread molder, pressure cookers, bun pan ovens, and all that was necessary to operate a modern bakery. The campus store still stands and provides services and goods for the students, faculty, and community that surround the area.

Carpentry Shop

Oakwood College sought not only to develop the minds but to also develop the manual skills in its "eminent" student body. Through its carpentry shop the student workers faced long challenging days of back breaking labor with lumber. It was there they learned the importance of an honest day's work. They toiled in the evening air as carpenters while at the same time fulfilling their obligation as students earning their degrees.

Dairy & Farm

From a distance it was common to hear the herding of live stock into the dairy factories. The dairy housed a twelve-station milking parlor, a processing plant for dairy products and offices. Cows were milked on a regular basis. The farm land was used to cultivate cotton, soybeans, corn, and other products. Students gained new experiences daily about knowing how to raise their own food.

Clothes Manufacturing

Clothes Manufacturing was one of Oakwood's early industries. Oakwood students quickly gained the skills required to be called good seamstresses and tailors. The students would make clothes for other students, faculty, and some times the community. By having this industry on campus it allowed students to obtain clothes economically.

Cotton being taken into town.

Cotton & Hay

Cotton was a major industry of Oakwood College. Everyday one could see Oakwood students hauling cotton into town to be sold. Wheat was grown on the Oakwood's farm. After it was picked it was left out to dry to be used as hay for the cows at the dairy and Oakwood's other animals.

Log Industry

Logs from Oakwood's forest were used as fuel in the school's industries and homes in place of coal. It was also used to make furniture for the school which was also sold to the community. It was closed around 1920-1924.

Laundry

Oakwood College operated on its campus the largest laundry and dry cleaning facility in North Alabama. There were dryers and presses for both laundered and dry cleaned garments, washers of various sizes, the largest having a capacity of 339 pounds per cycle. At its full operating capacity this industry had the potential to employ 100 students.

Students working hard in the broom factory.

Broom Factory

The Oakwood College Broom Factory was a thriving product of Oakwood College's industries. Students took great pains to carefully craft nearly flawless brooms while at the same time completing their academic requirements. It was a dirty job, but sometimes had to do it.

Cannery

Students on work study programs worked vigorously canning goods for the local Huntsville area stores and markets. The cannery not only provided jobs for the students while they earned their degrees, but it built strong work ethics.

Post Office

On a college campus one of the most important things is mail. The Post Office is one of the few businesses that still remain. Students work daily in the mail room learning the importance of promptness. They work to get incoming and outgoing mail to its various destinations.

Mattress

The students worked hard to construct and assemble the perfect mattress. Day in and day out, one could find them amidst the coils and springs diliquenty at work as to insure the customers a peaceful slumber.

In Dedication To Errol Shazall Trame

This year we laid to rest a leader and role-model among young Black American achievers, Errol Shazall Tramel. Errol had plans for his life after college graduation. He was very excited about returning to Oakwood College to complete his 4th and final year undergraduate studies — the year that ended before it began.

We must not be sad, for we know he is sleeping in Jesus. Rather let us now reflect on the type of person we have had to say farewell to.

On September 18, 1971, God blessed the union of Willie (Bill), Jr. and Alberta Horton Tramel with a son named Errol Shazall in Rochester, New York. Errol grew up in the Rochester community where he attended St. Augustine's and #44 elementary schools until the age of 7 when his family moved to Phoenix, Arizona in 1978.

Having been exposed to the church teachings while in Rochester, Errol was very interested in learning more about Christ. After moving to Phoenix, Errol attended the South Mountain SDA Church. He later attended Beacon Light SDA Church. At the young age of 11, Errol decided to follow the Lord all the way and was baptized.

As a dedicated person, Errol strived to be a studious academic achiever. He studied hard and excelled in his grades. When he entered high school in 1985, he set a goal to become the yearbook editor during his senior year, which he attained. Errol learned what he should do to accomplish this goal and applied himself accordingly. After high school graduation, he decided to attend Oakwood College. His long-term goal would allow him to utilize his Business Psychology degree in a corporate setting. We have no doubt that upon graduation in 1993, Errol would have been very successful in this venture.

Now we must bid him farewell. Sleep on dear Errol and take your rest; we all love you, but God loves you best.
